ALGER IS VERY ANGRY

Threatens To Sue the Papers That Are Libeling Him.

CLAIMS HE HAS DONE HIS DUTY TOWARDS THE SOLDIERS.

Washington, Aug. 30—Special—The all absorbing topic of discussion and speculation here is the quarrel between Secretary Alger and Gen. Miles. Both have their friends to espouse their cause, yet it is plain to be seen that the weight of opinion is favorable to the general, despite of the West Point jealousy that he, a civilian soldier, has had to encounter throughout his military career. Matters have gone so far that it will be impossible to prevent an inquiry, either by the president or by congress. There is no likelihood that anybody will be whitewashed, for the feeling is too bitter for that, and the inquiry will go to the bottom of the matter.

Preparing For Defense.

Washington, Aug. 30—Special—Except for the growing evidence of indignation in many parts of the country there is little news in reference to the management of the camps by the war department. The greatest efforts are now being directed toward sending the troops home. Officials fear there is trouble ahead, and that an investigation by congress is certain. The heads of bureaus are also already preparing their defence.

To Be Called to Account.

Washington, Aug. 30—Special—The opinion is becoming general that a court martial will be ordered by the president for Miles provided the latter admits the statements credited to him in the recent interviews. It is certain that Miles will be asked to tell the war department whether or not he authorized the statements credited to him.

Alger Is Indignant.

Kansas City, Aug. 30—Special—In an interview with Secretary Alger published in The Star today the secretary says he does not believe the statement attributed to Miles. He says he refuses to be chased out of the cabinet by the newspapers, and will send his accusers to jail if the law can take notice of the attacks made upon him.

Washington, Aug. 30—The secretary of war issued orders this morning directing that a sixty day furlough be granted the Thirty-third and Thirty-fourth Michigan, and that the regiments be mustered out at the end of that time. They have arrived at Montauk.

A Board of Inquiry.

New York, Aug. 30—Special—The Journal's Washington special says: Before the president left for Ohio he had a talk with Alger regarding the investigation of mismanagement of the army camps and practically decided to appoint a board of inquiry.

Philip Succeeds Schley.

COOK IS A CANDIDATE

Neenah's Former Congressman Would Like a Place in the United States Senate.

Neenah, Wis., Aug. 30—Ex-Congressman S. ... Cook will be a candidate for United States senator. This is not exactly news, as it has been long expected that he would be, but Mr. Cook himself today verifies the report.

port. That makes his candidacy a positive fact. "I consider the office of United States senator, one of the highest, in the gift of the people," Mr. Cook said tonight to an inquiring reporter, "and if the people of the state of Wisconsin through their representatives in the legislature shall decide on me for United States senator, I would most assuredly consider it a great honor, and would strive, as I have in the past, to do my duty in a manner that might merit the confidence reposed in me."

FOUGHT AT COUNTRY DANCE

Fanning Hurlled Portion of a Stove at Dehnert's Head

James Fanning, who resides near Johnston, was in court this morning to answer to the charge of assault, the complaining witness being one Fred Dehnert, a farmer residing near Johnston. According to the complaint the faterated parties attended a dance in the country on the night of Aug. 20. While having a hilarious time Fanning thought that he would increase the excitement so he picked up a portion of a nearby stove and hurling it at Dehnert struck him a terrific blow on the head.

When the case was called this morning it was adjourned till Sept. 9.

PICNICKED AT THE PARK

Concordia Society Has a Splendid Outing Up the River Today

Members of the Concordia Society were in full possession of Crystal Springs park today. The occasion was their thirtieth annual picnic and all that goes to make up a good time prevailed. The first boat left the city at 10 o'clock this morning and a goodly number took passage on it, taking along well filled baskets. At noon the usual picnic dinner was served and a large number were on hand.

The afternoon boats were better patronized and when the game program was called there was a large crowd of spectators on hand as well as many participants. The program of games included a hundred yard race for boys, 12 to 14 years; 100 yard wheelbarrow race, running broad jump, running high jump, fat man's race, 100 yard race for Concordia men.

Dancing was participated in this afternoon and will also be a feature of the evening. The Concordia society never do anything by halves, and their picnic today was a decided success.

LIEUT. RICHARDSON HERE

He Saw Plenty of Fighting in the Battle of Santiago.

Lieut. L. T. Richardson, of the Twentieth Regular Infantry stationed at Leavenworth, Kansas, is now in the city accompanied by his wife. He is enjoying a furlough, and expects to spend some time visiting local relatives. While in service he was taken down with the fever, and although his case was not serious at any time he is nevertheless feeling the after effects of the fever which left him in a weak condition. Lieut. Richardson's company was one of the very first to land on Cuban soil, and are now one of the last to leave. At the battle of Santiago they saw actual service, and many members of the regiment were wounded and killed.

CALVIN'S REMAINS WERE HERE

Decensed Came to His Death While in Prison at Waupun.

When the evening train from Milwaukee pulled into the city last evening on the St. Paul road, the baggage car contained the remains of James Calvin, who was sentenced to state's prison for two years by Municipal Judge M. M. Phelps, for stealing a team of horses from Joshua Orall & Son, the East Milwaukee street liverymen, and attempting to sell them in Beloit. He died at the Waupun prison Saturday, of consumption.

Calvin was a young man, and leaves a wife. His remains will be buried in the cemetery at Juda.

IN APPLE PIE ORDER

Montauk Park Preparing for President's Visit.

HE WILL SEE NOTHING BUT THE BRIGHT SIDE.

Montauk Point, L. I., Aug. 30—Special—There is much bustle about camp and in the hospital tents today, for it is announced that the president is about to pay a visit to Camp Wikoff. Everybody able to work is setting things in order, and when the president arrives he will find everything in apple-pie order. He is not expected to make a close scrutiny of conditions here, but may do so, and for that reason the abuses of which there has been so much complaint will disappear temporarily, at least.

McKenna May be Chosen.

Washington, Aug. 30—Special—The refusal by Justice White of the appointment tendered him on the peace commission creates a vacancy that will probably be filled by Justice McKenna. Many questions affecting the status of the Roman church in the conquered territory will doubtless come up for discussion, and it is the desire of the president that one of the American commissioners shall be a Roman Catholic. For this reason Justice White was selected. As he has declined it will be necessary, if the president is to follow out his policy, that Justice McKenna be selected, as he is the only member of the supreme court, aside from Justice White, who is an adherent of that faith.

Revenue in Cuba Is Large.

Washington, Aug. 30—Special—Officers of the internal revenue and customs service at Santiago report the receipts at that port increasing. Imports have been stimulated by the necessities of the people who found themselves, upon the capture of the city, almost destitute of the necessities of life. These had to be brought from neighboring islands, and have paid tribute to Uncle Sam's exchequer. Large imports are promised for months to come, but it is thought they will diminish as the country becomes thoroughly pacified and the people resume their customary occupations as producers instead of being as they now are, simply consumers.

Soldiers From Santiago.

Montauk, Aug. 30—Special—The transports Specialist, San Marco and Berlin entered Fort Pond bay today. All on the San Marco are well. On the Berlin are Gen. Bates and the First Illinois. One Illinois soldier died this morning.

Boston, Aug. 30—Special—The hospital ship Bay State arrived from Santiago this morning with ninety-eight sick soldiers. Three men died after embarkation.

At 8:05 the excursion left Janesville, there being plenty of room for all. W. W. Winton, traveling passenger agent, was in charge, and saw that his guests wanted for nothing. WHY THEY WANT APPLEBY.

With no class of people does the candidacy of William H. Appleby for sheriff meet with more favor than among the farmers. Mr. Appleby's record as an officer is a particularly brilliant one, and his former administration was marked by close attention to his duties, and a considerable saving of the people's money. Mr. Appleby did the work of sheriff himself. He worked early and late that every tract given to him to execute might have his personal attention, and did not put the county to expense that he might take his ease. He always had the interests of the taxpayer at heart and gave the people faithful, conscientious service. That his excellent administration made him popular with all was clearly shown at the recent county convention. Mr. Appleby had heavy support from the farming communities, and his renomination caused great enthusiasm. The delegates supported him because they thought he would be the strongest candidate, and because they knew his election would mean efficient service at the lowest possible cost.

The fact that Mr. Appleby has held the office before does not count against him, but rather in his favor. If he had made a poor record as sheriff, he certainly would not have been renominated with so near a unanimous vote. Rock county's business should only be intrusted to good men. Her officers should not be given to Tom, Dick and Harry, or parceled out on any other grounds than the assurance of the best possible service in all departments. It is generally admitted that W. H. Appleby made as good a sheriff as any man who ever held the office and in many respects the best one. This being the case, why should not the taxpayer be given the benefit of his experience and economical, business like methods again? There is no good reason why they should not and every good reason why they should. The office of sheriff is too important a one to be treated purely as a political plum to be given out regardless of the qualifications of the applicant, but should go only to men who are qualified to assume its responsibilities. All of the men who asked for the place at the county convention, were well qualified and any one of them would have been acceptable to the people. However, Mr. Appleby had more votes than all the other candidates combined and his victory was sufficiently decisive to show clearly that he was the choice of the people.

Walworth county has followed this plan of recognizing worth also, and has renominated ex-Sheriff S. H. Hollister, who held the place two years ago.

It has always been deemed wise and politic policy to renominate efficient officers in all other departments of the county's business, and why should not the same plan be wise in relation to sheriff—a most important office as the people have to fill? There is no reason why the plan should not be followed. If qualifications for the place are not the criterion, then county officers should be selected by accepting the lowest bid, regardless of the service the bidders could render.

Rock county never had a better sheriff than W. H. Appleby and the voters realize the fact. His election insures an efficient and economical administration, and that is what the people who pay the bills want. Hence, Mr. Appleby's candidacy is received with favor by all. His election is assured, and his majority will be exceptionally large.

When a farmer hires a man to work for him, he considers only the qualifications of the employee for the service expected. He doesn't hire a book-keeper to pitch hay. When he wants hay pitched he hires a man who knows how to handle a pitchfork. And when he comes to vote for county officers, he acts on the same wise logic. The republican county ticket was selected by the people on the same theory, and it is the only theory upon which business, either personal or public, can be successfully conducted.

YELLOW PAPER DENOUNCED.

Secretary Alger's denunciation of the yellow papers meets with universal favor. As he says, the newspapers that are making the greatest noise now about the sickness of the soldiers are the same that day after day in the early summer shouted "On to Cuba," and abused the president and the secretary of war for not sending the army at once against Havana. While President McKinley and Secretary Alger were holding back the army until it could be properly equipped, drilled and seasoned for a campaign in a tropical country, fearing the ravages of yellow fever among green troops, these newspapers were insisting that the army should be moved to Cuba, and abusing the president for failing to move yellow fever or any other disease. Now, when the troops come home sick after two months' campaigning and a glorious victory, these critics are abusing the Secretary of War because the men are sick.

Uncle Sam's soldiers at Manila will soon see signs that will remind them of home. A Milwaukee brewery has received an order for sixty-five car loads of bottled beer to be shipped to that city, and with each car load, a dozen metal doorway signs will be sent.

The republican county ticket is a strong one. The people know every man on it. They have been weighed in the balance, and not found wanting. The best interests of the people demand the election of the entire list.

Russia has suggested to the other European countries the advisability of a heavy reduction of their respective armies. Russia is progressing.

The best is done too good for Rock county. W. H. Appleby made as good a sheriff as the county ever had. The conclusion, therefore, is plain.

CURIOUS LEAVE-TAKING.

Freehmen Made Things Lively for Their

Dear Teachers,
The freshman class of Johns Hopkins university took leave of one of its professors in a way of its own. It was the last day of the class before final examinations and the large body of students assembled with broad smiles and an air of general expectancy, says the Baltimore Sun. In a few moments the door opened and a messenger boy appeared with a large funeral pillow on which were embroidered the words: "God Bless Our Teachers." He marched straight up to the professor, presented his funeral gift and demanded a receipt. The professor argued, but the boy didn't understand his logic, until the learned doctor looked threateningly and the boy "guessed he would wait for one." Then signs of trouble began to appear all over the classroom. One sign bore the line "To Keep His Memory Green," and another "Remember the Maine." Other choice and popular expressions, appropriate and inappropriate to the day, were strung up. Slowly an odor began to creep into the room. It may have been the hydrogen sulphide, but it might have been anything else which hadn't any business there. It stole gently through the keyhole, stifled the students near the door and moved in waves of ever-increasing circles about the room, carrying with it all the odoriferous suggestions of myriads of eggs of the middle ages. Suddenly in the middle of the class began to appear beasts of the field and fowls of the air. One rat was seen to dart from a crowd of students and make his way across the room, where he sought cold comfort in a last winter's radiator. A pigeon winged its way aimlessly to the back of a chair and several students were about to make impromptu addresses, which they had carefully prepared, when President Gilman appeared upon the scene. The students began to look innocent and shocked. The pigeon crawled back into the bosom of his erstwhile tormentor; the rat struggled up to the radiator; the signs disappeared, and even the odor began ingloriously to take to flight and lose itself in space. President Gilman said a few words, but they cut the overburdened atmosphere like the crack of a ten-pounder. It was a "bad but glorious day for President Gilman," said one of the freshmen as he sought the haven of refuge in the gymnasium.

Exodus of Rats in China.

The North China Herald says that a curious phenomenon was witnessed recently at daybreak upon the opening of the Changmen gate of Soochow. Some thousands of rats of all sizes were seen to file out of the gates, showing no fear of the country people who were flocking to sell their market produce in the city. There was much excitement, amounting almost to a panic, therefore, in Soochow, and a dire fate is prophesied to the city, it being remembered that a similar exodus happened in the '60s, just prior to the fall of the city into the hands of the Taipings rebels.

DAMAGE BY HAIL
PLACED AT $10,000

ADJUSTERS FINISH WORK IN THIS COUNTY.

Say That Damage Will Easily Foot Up Larger Sum Than Was Expected—Towns of Plymouth, Center and Jack Suffered Greatest—Most of the Farmers Insured.

It will take $10,000 to cover the damage done to leaf tobacco in Rock county by hail during the storms that prevailed in July and August. President J. B. Paige and Adjuster Joseph Simons, of the United Farmers Township Mutual Hail Insurance Company, of Sparta, Wis., are now in this city and make the estimate after having made a tour of the entire county. Ten thousand dollars, they say, is placing the damage at a low figure. In the towns of Center, Plymouth and Rock the hail got in its work, doing more damage than in any other section of the county.

The storm that visited this section on July 11 and August 15 were the ones that wrought the greatest amount of damage. In many sections it cut whole fields so that the insurance adjusters were obliged to pay heavy damages. The July storm did less damage for the reason that the plants then were less matured and were less subject to damage owing to their small size. The greater portion of the smaller plants were left in the field to grow and were not removed as many might suppose.

Soon after the first storm, Adjuster Simons arrived on the scene, and has been traveling the county since July 20. Saturday of this week he will finish his report, which, he says, will show a damage of about $10,000.

A Difficult Task.

Adjuster Simons says that the work of settling hail losses with the average Rock county farmer is not a pleasant task. No matter how little the crop has been damaged while in the field, the average farmer tries hard to make the adjuster believe that the entire crop is a total loss, and that it should be plowed under. As soon as the loss is adjusted the farmer will not disturb the plants but will let them grow to full size and then harvest them, securing the best price that the market allows. There is much more profit in such a measure than there would be to plow them under and replant.

Freaks of the Storm

In the town of Center many farms escaped the hail, while in others that were adjoining, the tobacco was badly cut. In many instances the hail storm did damage in one section and would then pass over many farms without the least particle of damage. The greater portion of the farmers who lost by hail had their crops insured.

Couldn't Lick Dewey.

From the Washington Star: A correspondent tells this story: "My daughter, who teaches in a mission Sunday school, tells me of a Dewey experience she had with a youngster making his first appearance. She had put him through a half an hour or more of instruction in the rudimentary principles, for he was entirely lacking in information on that point, and to test him was reviewing her work with him. 'Now,' she said, 'tell me again who made the world and all that is in it?' 'God did,' replied the boy, with commendable promptitude. 'God can do anything, can't he?' she asked again. The boy hesitated a moment. 'I don't believe he could lick Dewey,' he answered at last, and his teacher sat silent between her religion and her patriotism. It wasn't her time to say anything, if she didn't want to lose that boy forever, and she had wit enough to let it go at that."

Self Valuation.

"It must take a great deal of egotism to make men talk about themselves as they do," remarked Miss Cayenne. "Sometimes it is a sort of modesty," replied Willie Washington. "They realize the danger of being overlooked unless they make a great deal of noise."—Washington Star.

FELL FROM A DIZZY HEIGHT

Fred B. Barton Had a Narrow Escape
From Instant Death.

Fred B. Barton, junior member of the Tuckwood & Barton Machine Company, of this city, is at present congratulating himself on the fact that he is in the land of the living. On Saturday, while at work putting up a windmill on the farm of Edward Murphy, near Footville, one of the poles slipped, and striking him, knocked him off a distance of forty feet from the ground. He turned completely over and landed on a narrow plank extending from the tower a few feet above the ground, striking on his feet.
His left leg was badly broken and the ligaments were torn and strained. One of his teeth was also knocked out.

WHAT THEY ARE

Composition of the Famous New Food

A widespread interest has been created among good lives, as to the composition of Grape-Nuts, the new food that has come into popular use of late.
It has long been known to physicians, chemists and food experts, that the starchy portion of entire wheat flour and barley is transformed into a true and very choice sugar, by the act of intestinal digestion in the human body. This sugar is identical with,
and is known as grape-sugar, and it is in condition for immediate transformation into blood and the necessary structure from which the delicate nerve centers are built up.

A food expert of the Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., Battle Creek, Mich., followed a line of experiments until he produced the food called Grape-Nuts, of which grape-sugar forms the principal part, and it is produced by following out nature's processes, in a mechanical way. That is, heat, moisture and time are the methods employed and directed by scientific facts gained in research.

Grape-Nuts are probably entitled to the claim to be the most perfectly adapted food for human needs now extant. Certain it is that the users delight in the flavor and the perfect action of the intestinal digestion during the use of Grape-Nuts is satisfying, and the added strength of the body confirms the fact.

MUSTERING OUT FIRST REGIMENT

THE GOVERNOR YET WITHOUT OFFICIAL INFORMATION.

He Will Try To Engage Sleeping Cars to Bring the Sick Home—Well Men Probably Go to Camp Douglas; the Sick Men to Milwaukee.

Madison, Aug. 30.—There is still much uncertainty as to the date at which the First Wisconsin regiment will be mustered out. The governor has no official information on the subject whatever. The order issued yesterday by the war department for the First to go to Camp Douglas shows that Gov. Scofield's dispatch, suggesting that the regiment be sent to Camp Douglas in place of Camp Harvey, was received and considered by the department, but beyond that no word has come.

Despairing of receiving any information regarding the plans of the department for the transportation of the sick Gov. Scofield last night telegraphed to the officials of several railroads asking what arrangements could be made for eight sleeping cars to bring the sick of the regiment from Jacksonville to Milwaukee. This morning the governor started for Chicago to complete the arrangements in person. The arrangements will be made in such a way that they can be set aside in case the government has made equally good arrangements for bringing the sick soldiers home. His work at Chicago completed, Gov. Scofield may go on to Jacksonville if he can do any good there and personally accompany the soldiers.

His plan at present is to have the sick brought to Milwaukee, where he expects to arrange hospital accommodations at Camp Harvey and it is thought better to have the boys brought to Milwaukee. Several Wisconsin physicians have offered their services free of charge to go down and bring the boys back, if the government will allow it and they will possibly accompany the hospital train if one is sent from this state.
No explanation can be had here of the peculiar action of the officials of the war department.

Washington, Aug. 30.—An order was issued today mustering out the First Wisconsin regiment stationed at Jacksonville, Fla. The regiment will be mustered out in Wisconsin, having been ordered to Camp Douglas. Up to within a recent period it was believed that the First Wisconsin would be sent to Camp Douglas with the Seventh Army corps, but the continued ill-health of a large number of its members resulted in bringing down on the department an avalanche of protests against the retention of the regiment in the service.
Credit is due Governor Scofield and the personal representations made to the department by Representative Cooper for the early mustering out of the First.

HILL SPEAKS WELL OF JACKSONVILLE

RETURNED HOME LAST NIGHT WITH SICK SON.

Says That All That Can Be Done Is Being Accomplished For Our Boys
—Few From Here Are Dangerously Ill—Praises Work of the Local Officers.

John C. Hill, who resides at 53 Oakland avenue, returned home last evening from Camp Cuba Libre, Jacksonville, Florida. He was accompanied by his sick son, Bert Hill, who was quartermaster for Co. A, First Wisconsin regiment. Quartermaster Hill is now confined to his Oakland avenue home as the result of being ill with typhoid fever, but his sickness is nothing to cause alarm among his friends, and his recovery is only a matter of a short time.

When Mr. Hill left Janesville the first of last week it was for no other purpose than to go to Jacksonville and bring his son north where he would be among friends, and in a climate that was more adapted for an invalid.
On his arrival at Jacksonville he lost no time in making his way direct to the camp, where he encountered but little trouble in making his way to Co. A headquarters. A most cordial welcome was given him, and the Janesville boys fired fifty questions at him at one time. For three days he stayed about the grounds and made the Janesville camp his headquarters.
In all quarters he found that everything was managed in as good style as could be expected under the circumstances. Although he found a large number of the Janesville boys not feeling well and very thin as the result of the fever, he found but two cases where the patients were seriously ill and needing careful nursing. Some of those in charge of the hospitals he found were overworked. This meant less attention to the sick, but even then there was not a single instance where one was in need of medical treatment.

Cares For the Boys.
Mrs. Hanson, he says, is doing noble work, and for hours each day she visits the different wards doing good for the sick by fanning them and bringing them fresh fruit. She also writes letters for many of them who are too weak even to handle a pen. Mr. Hill also visited Pablo Beach, and there found a number of Janesville boys enjoying life by the ocean. This resort is one of the most delightful in the south.

Camp Cuba Libre is located partly in swamp land and it is this location, say the citizens of Jacksonville, that has caused most of the sickness. The camp was located where it now is, it is said, so that it would benefit the Jacksonville street railway company, who have been profited to the extent of several thousand dollars. Mr.
Hill left Jacksonville Saturday night and arrived home at 5:30 o'clock last evening.

A New Dressing
We have just received an invoice of Yacht Club salad dressing, an article which we think is as good, if not better than any salad dressing on the market. It is put up by Reid, Murdoch & Co., of Chicago, and comes highly recommended. With each bottle we will give free for a limited time a forty-five page booklet on salads and salad dressings, exclusively, which in itself is worth the price we ask for the dressing. We think most ladies will bear us out in the statement that salads and salad dressings are the most unsatisfactory articles to prepare in the entire list of fancy dishes. This little book is full of good things for just this work, one free with each bottle of Yacht Club dressing at 25 cents. Sanborn & Co.

GOLD MEDAL GIVEN TO LADY GOLFERS

A. M. VALENTINE PRESENTS HANDSOME TROPHY.

Play Will Begin at Once, and the Beat Sixteen Scores Will Qualify For Match Play—Finals To Be Played in October—A Benedict Foursome.

Ladies of the Siniissippi Golf club are astir over the presentation of a handsome gold medal. The medal is the gift of A. M. Valentine, and in spite of the modest protest of the donor is to be known as the Valentine trophy. It consists of a round pen-dant supported by two chains from a bar. Both bar and pendant show crossed golf clubs. The title of the trophy is engraved on the bar, while around the edge of the pendant are the words "Siniissippi Golf Club." In every respect the trophy is a handsome one.

It was announced today that play for the possession of the medal would begin at once. The conditions, roughly stated, are as follows:

Each of the club's women members will turn in three or more scores before September 10. Scores must be signed by another player and must be on cards issued by Secretary J. P.
Baker.

The sixteen players having the best average on three scores September 10 will be handicapped. Pairs will be drawn by lot and sixteen will meet in match play Thursday, September 15.

The eight winners will meet on Thursday, September 22, and the four winners in this match will meet for the semi-finals September 29. The finals will be played in October, the date to be fixed later.

The winner of the medal will retain possession of it for one year. It will continue to be the property of the club and will be played for once a year.
The conditions are so arranged that all players will have an equal chance, as the handicap puts inexperienced players on the same footing as the more expert. Rapid improvement among the weaker players is likely to be seen as the match progresses, and it would not be strange if some holder of a long handicap came out ahead of the scratch players.

A Benedict foursome will be played Friday afternoon. The rivalry between some of the married golfers is intense, and a lively time is in prospect. Among those who will take part are Messrs and Mesdames F. E. Fifeid, J. P. Baker, O. L. Fifeid, C. G.
MacLean, and C. P. McLean.

The tie between three couples for the ownership of the gold golf pin which was the prize a week ago, is to be played off Friday afternoon. There has been diligent practice this week in consequence.

RECOVERED HIS MISSING RIG.
Dixon, Illinois, Liveryman Here In Search of Horse and Buggy.

A Dixon, Ill., liveryman was in the city today and reported to the police the disappearance of one of his rigs that was hired from his barn a few days ago.

The man who hired the rig staid away too long to suit the Dixon liveryman, so he started out in pursuit of him. On a farm in the town of La Prairie he located the outfit, and it was brought to the city this afternoon.

The man who hired the rig was on the farm, but up till a late hour this afternoon no arrests were made.

DISCUSS THE CZAR'S NOTE.

Various Opinions Expressed in European Capitals.

ITS SINCERITY UNDOUBTED.

Pope Leo Expresses His Gratification at the Action of the Emperor—Washington Official Thinks Move Is Meant to Benefit Russia.

London, Aug. 30.—The evening papers express full confidence in the personal sincerity of the czar in making his proposal for disarmament. Some doubt whether Germany and France, especially France, can be brought to any sincere support of the czar's proposal.

The St. James' Gazette says: "It would be unjust to attribute the czar's move to Muscovite perfidy. It would be irrational to decline to meet Russia or to doubt her sincerity."

The Pall Mall Gazette says: "Universal disarmament is an idea too vast to contemplate suddenly as a practical and realizable ambition. The circular is a thunderbolt from a clear sky, but what chance has the idea to develop into anything more than a pious aspiration for a beautiful but unattainable ideal? Though Great Britain is for peace, France is suffering from a periodical attack of military uneasiness, and is guided alone by self interest. It is not clear, either, that Germany is on the side of the angels, in spite of the fantastic report that the czar's circular forestalled a similar one which the kaiser had intended to issue from the Mount of Olives on the occasion of his visit to the holy land. Austria might fall in line, and Italy also, but what about the United States?"

The Daily Telegraph says that opinion in the city regards the czar's proposal with suspicion. It is ascribed to Russia's economic condition, and it is thought to be wildly impracticable to suggest that Great Britain give up her navy. A leading city man said:

"It is well known that Russia requires large sums of money in connection with her schemes in China, especially for the railway in Manchuria. She will find it difficult, perhaps impossible, to raise money in Berlin and Paris while the present uncertainty lasts. Therefore M. Witte, the Russian finance minister, probably conceived the disarmament conference in the hope that Russia would thereby be enabled to raise money to more fully effect her plans in China."

RUSSIA NOT READY FOR WAR.

Views of Washington Officials on Czar's Peace Proposal.

Washington, Aug. 30.—Russia's proposal that there shall be general disarmament of European nations was read with much interest in the state, war and navy departments, where this particular subject, as far as the United States is concerned, is dealt with. A prominent official of the administration, who has had long acquaintance with international relations of the United States, said: "Venturing an opinion, I should say that this note was due to Russia's fear that complications in the far east are likely to lead to that outbreak of hostilities which has been looked for ever since the close of the Franco-Prussian war, and that she is not in fit condition to go into that conflict. Whatever its origin may be, you can rest assured its object is for the benefit of Russia."

German Views of the Czar's Plan.

Berlin, Aug. 30.—The czar's note to the powers proposing a peace conference has created a great sensation here. It is said that the German government shows sympathy for this idea of reducing the armaments of Europe. The only question here is as to how the beautiful humanitarian project can be realized. Germany's position in the heart of Europe, wedged between other great powers, renders it impossible for it to make a beginning. However, the proposal is certainly worth considering.

Alsace-Lorraine Prevents.

Paris, Aug. 30.—The czar's note to the powers was most unexpected here. All the evening papers of Paris published the text of it, but none contained expressions of opinion regarding that pacific document. To-day the press is unanimous in declaring that the Alsace-Lorraine problem must still be solved by force of arms. After that is provided for, they sweetly say, disarmament may follow.

Satisfies General Booth.

London, Aug. 30.—Gen. Booth, the head of the Salvation army, has sent a telegraphic message to the czar, saying: "I received with profound thankfulness to God your imperial, wise, beneficial and Christian proposal."

Pope Expresses Gratification.

Rome, Aug. 30.—The pope has wired to the emperor of Russia a message expressing his gratification at the action of the czar in formulating and issuing his proposal for universal peace.

Well Received in Vienna.

Vienna, Aug. 30.—The proposal for the holding of an international conference to agree upon some means of a general disarmament was favorably received by operators on the bourse here.

Expect an Agreement Today.

Vienna, Aug. 30.—The Austrian and Hungarian premiers have reported to the emperor that as a result of the ausgleich negotiations a final agreement on the subject is expected to-day.

Mr. McKinley is at Cleveland.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 30.—The train bearing President McKinley and party arrived in Cleveland Monday evening. The presidential party left the train at the Euclid avenue station and were driven directly to the residence of Col. Myron T. Herrick on Cedar heights. There was a small crowd at the station, the hour of the president's arrival not being generally known. The president will probably remain in Cleveland a week, and will visit Canton one day during his stay in this city.

Declares Boycotts Legal.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 30.—Judge Vallant of the St. Louis circuit court rendered a decision in the case of Marx & Hass against Watson and others Monday declaring boycotts legal. A temporary injunction pending settlement was granted a week ago by Judge McKee, sitting in Judge Vallant's stead. The order enjoined the union from boycotting the tailoring firm. Now Judge Vallant declares a boycott is legal as long as no force or intimidation is resorted to.

A brief service was held in a room at the Parker House, and under escort of a detail of the National Lancers, the guard of Gov. Wolcott, the body was taken to the railway station.

Riots Must Be Stopped.

Tacoma, Wash., Aug. 30.—Oriental advisers say the Chinese emperor has issued an edict warning officials, tariff generals, viceroys, and governors that, under pain of heavy penalties, there must be no more anti-missionary riots. He says that the missionaries and their converts must be fully protected.

IT'S A TITANIC TASK.

RAISING THE SPANISH WARSHIPS AS PLANNED BY HOBSON.

How the Hero of the Merrimac Reversed the Decision of the Naval Experts and Persuaded Experienced Wreckers That the Work Was Possible.

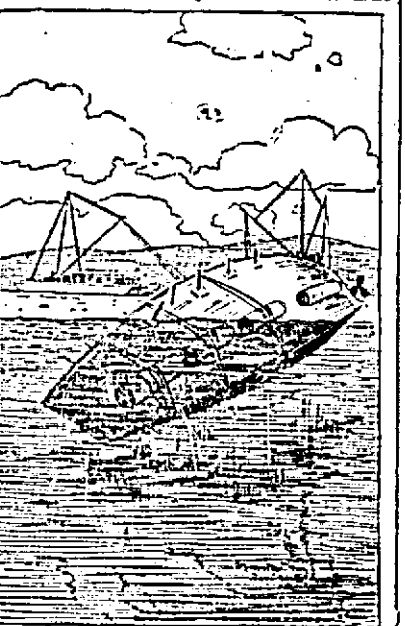

If any of the Spanish warships which now lie battered hulls strewn along the Cuban coast west of Santiago are saved and added to the American navy, Lieutenant Richmond Pearson Hobson, who has already become a national hero, will add something substantial to his fame.

In the first place, it was Hobson who caused the attempt to be made. When the navy department sent a board of experts to look at the wrecks, the chief expert of the lot rowed around the shot riddled hulls, squinted scientifically over the warped decks, shook his head wisely and continuously at the torn plates and said it was of no use; they couldn't be saved. He went back to Washington and told the navy department so. Hobson went to Washington too. He said the experts were mistaken. Then he convinced the high naval officials it might be so, and he was given authority to go ahead and make contracts for the work.

So Lieutenant Hobson hurried to New York and had an interview with the magnates of the wrecking business. They were glad to see Mr. Hobson and proud to shake his hand, but they told him that it was impossible to save the wrecks. They were sorry, but it was so. Moreover, when Hobson presumed to differ they reminded him that they had been in the wrecking business a great many years; they knew about what could and what could not be done, and their agents had seen the hulls and made a thorough examination.

An ordinary man would have stopped there. But Hobson, as we have seen before, is not an ordinary man. He has a chin that tells of an iron will. He not only told the wrecking people that he was satisfied there was a good chance of saving for Uncle Sam the ships which had been the pride of Spain, but he took pencil and paper and showed them how it might be done.

At first the wrecking magnates smiled patronizingly. They intimated that Lieutenant Hobson might know a lot about sinking ships, but when it came to raising them, why—well, they could afford to let others speak for them. But when he detailed his plans they became interested. His scheme was a plausible one. Finally they caught some of his enthusiasm, and they agreed to undertake the work. There was a victory for Hobson which may add to our navy a couple of fine warships at bargain counter rates.

The plan by which Lieutenant Hobson hopes to save the Cristobal Colon, which will be the most difficult to raise, is not entirely new. It is a new application of old means and methods. He proposes to use pontoons and inflated bags. These have been used before, but their use in the case of the Colon will present problems never before encountered in wrecking operations.

Boats have been raised from deep water by means of pontoons, but the Colon is not sunk entirely, and the manipulation of the hull will be, because of her position on the shelving beach, an operation of extreme delicacy. As a matter of fact, it is not known just how the work will be done, the prosecution of it depending on the conditions confronting the wreckers. But every contingency has been foreseen by the indefatigable Hobson, and any one of several plans of work will be his.

"The Maria Teresa," said Mr. Hobson, in speaking of the enterprise, "can be raised without much difficulty, but she is in a badly battered condition. If we can raise the Colon, she will be much more serviceable. I think it can be done. The chief danger in raising the Colon is that she may be broken in two, as she lies on a shelving beach and half of her hull is practically hanging in the water."

Of course it would not be fair to give all the credit to Hobson in case the work should be successful, for the men who carry out his ideas and lend their store of knowledge to the effort are certainly deserving of any praises they may earn. American wreckers are the most skillful and successful of any in the world. No other country has concerns which will attempt the dangerous and difficult tasks that they accomplish every year. The New York firm which has taken the contract has the finest and most complete wrecking equipment to be found in any port on the globe. It is a matter of record that New York boats have carried on successful work as far south as the strait of Magellan and as far north as Newfoundland.

Threat of Lynching.

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 30.—A Preston (Minn.) special says: "M. R. Todd, the cashier who wrecked the Fillmore County bank, has confessed the theft of all the bank's deposit funds to M. T. Grattan, one of his bondsmen. Grattan told Todd that a lynching was imminent unless he made a full statement. Overcome by fear, he confessed that just prior to the bank's assignment he had taken all the money on deposit and delivered it to a former partner, who is now in La Crosse, Wis. The La Crosse authorities have been asked to arrest him, and further developments are expected."

TWO NEW GROCERY ARTICLES!

Some new things are better than old ones. Some are not so good. We look carefully into new articles before we recommend them to replace the old ones. The two new grocery articles we are speaking of you have already become familiar with---their names at least.

Freun's Wheat Wafers.

I. X. L. (Cold Water) Starch.

We have pushed both of them quite extensively in the past few weeks, and with real marked success too. People have bought freely of them, praised them both generously. We knew of their merit to such an extent that we felt warranted in placing our personal guarantee back of them. The manufacturers give their word as to their worth, so there is no doubt but that they are good.

I. X. L. Cold Water Starch does not require boiling. It saves time and labor and is the best article of its kind on the market. We sell it 3 packages for 25c, whereas it usually retails at 10c package. Large purchases place us on a jobbing basis.

Freun's Wheat Wafers A perfectly digestible, nutritious breakfast food. The weakest stomach digests it. Children grow healthy and strong with it as a food. Grown people acquire more nerve force and general strength on Freun's Wheat Wafers. The indigestible part of the wheat kernel is removed. We sell it 10c package; usual retail price is 2 packages 25c. Our large purchase helps us to make the low price.

We never give our word to an article unless it has merit. You can rely on both of these articles. Give them a trial.
